SIX-MONTH OLD CHILD DIES SUDDENLY

Bryan Joseph Wilkerson, six-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Wilkerson, Jr., of 342 Old Spanish Trail, Bay St. Louis, was pronounced dead on arrival at Hancock General Hospital, 12:05 p.m. Friday, August 11.

Sheriff Gerald Price quoted the parents of the child as saying he was apparently in good health Friday morning, but started gasping for breath near noon and died enroute to the hospital.

An inquest jury empaneled by Coroner Emile Piazza returned a verdict of death by natural causes.

Jurors were Teddy Morel, G. V. Price, J. Gerald Favre, Donald Marquer, Bernice Piazza and Roland Lafontaine Sr. Sheriff Price served as bailiff.

Other than the parents the infant is survived by a brother Clifton Wilkerson III.

Funeral services were held Friday at 5 p.m. from the residence with interment in Cedar Rest Cemetery.

A record-breaking number of qualified electors turned out Saturday to vote for the $300,000 BAWI Bond Issue.

Of the 1439 ballots cast, 1428 were for the issue and 11 against. North Bay, Bay "B" polled 639 for and 5 against; while South Bay box totaled 589 for and 6 against the bond issue.

The 22 spoiled ballots thrown out by election officials, were in favor of the issue, Commissioner J. Cyril Glover said.

Clearing of the ground for the 58,000 square foot building for the Enameling Division of Industrial Electric Co. has started, Mr. Glover stated and construction will begin as soon as clearing is completed.

The plant will be located on Central Avenue adjacent to the Louisville and Nashville Railroad tracks.

Mr. Glover said Industrial Electric Company will use its own funds to finance the purchase of land and to construct the building and will be reimbursed by the City from proceeds of the bond issue.

"On completion of the plant," Mr. Glover continued, certified engineers and independent certified accountants will report on the cost of the construction to the city as per requirements of the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Bond which administers the BAWI program.

"Bonds will not be sold," Commissioner Glover added until, according to terms of the contract, Industrial Electric Co. authorizes the City to sell them." This, according to Mr. Glover, will be about January 15, 1962, at which time construction should be almost completed.

According to Mr. Glover, the city will probably advertise the bonds for sale beginning in November.

Title to the land and building, when completed, will be conveyed to the City of Bay St. Louis and will be leased by the Enameling Division of Industrial Electric from the City at an annual rental over a period of 25 years.

Annual rental payment will be made in advance each year in an amount sufficient to retire the bonds and pay all interest charges against such bonds.

At the expiration of 25 years all bonds and interest charges will have been paid and the building, debt free, will be the property of the City of Bay St. Louis, with the Company having the option to renew the lease for an additional twenty-five years at a reasonable annual rental.

The plant will employ about 100 with an annual payroll of approximately $300,000.

"The City officials," Mr. Glover concluded, "are elated over the overwhelming vote in favor of the bond issue."

FORESTRY NOTES

Mississippi experienced its best fire season record wise in the history of the Forestry Commission during the past fiscal year, July 1, 1960 through June 30, 1961, according to State Forester C. B. Marlin.

Marlin said that 74 of the state's 82 counties are now under the forest fire protection system operated by the Mississippi Forestry Commission involving an area of seventeen and one-half million acres. Only slightly more than one-third of one percent of this total area under protection was burned during the past year.

This speaks well for the efficiency of the Commission's fire detection and fire suppression system," Marlin said, "with this being the lowest percentage burned in the 35-year history of the Commission."

Fire occurrence was at an all time low also with only 348 fires per million acres under protection. For the first time since 1930-31, the number of acres burned by wild forest fires dropped below the 60,000 acres mark with the total this year reaching 59,829 acres. During the 1930-31 fiscal year, the number of acres burned was lower but only slightly more than one-half million acres was under protection at that time. Although there was a considerable amount of rain during the past year, Marlin said, "the fire prevention efforts of the people of Mississippi played a great part in helping to set this all-time favorable record in forest fire prevention."

Marlin expressed appreciation for all employees of the Mississippi Forestry Commission for the cooperation extended them in carrying out the state's forest fire control program. He further expressed a desire that this type of effort not only be continued but be stepped-up to reach an even better record during next year and years to come.

Stennis Retirement Bill Meets Stiff Opposition

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Senator John Stennis, whose efforts to provide federal funds for retirement payment of Army and Air National Guard civilian technicians met a roadblock in a Senate House conference this week, took his fight into the Senate Armed Services Committee today.

When the Senate House Conference declined to accept the Stennis amendment which had been earlier adopted by the Senate Defense Appropriations Committee, and the Senate itself, Senator Stennis turned to the Senate Armed Services Committee with a new bill.

The second Stennis effort, which is an amendment to another House passed bill already pending in the Armed Services Committee, would provide legislative authority for the Secretary of Defense to make payments to the states of the employer's share of the State Retirement Program for civilian technicians of the National Guard. Stennis, ranking member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, explained that the lack of such authority on the part of the Secretary of Defense was the major reason for rejection by the earlier plan. The Stennis amendment, approved by the Senate Armed Services Committee, is expected to be voted on by the Senate itself later this week.

New TENDERNESS
in beef!

Swift's exclusive new tender process is a method of tendering beef from within, developed and patented by Swift & Company with the approval of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The natural enzymes in meat are supplemented by vegetable protein distributed throughout the meat tissue (this is not a dip or surface method). This new tendering method has no effect on any cuts until cooked in oven, grill, or broiler. Then it releases amazing new tenderness never possible until now.

Now a new tenderness in every cut. Swift's new Proten Tendered Beef gives you a new tenderness so remarkable that your whole concept of cooking will be changed. Chucks and rump steaks and roasts are all now cuts you can serve with pride and cook easier and quicker than ever before! Every fork-tender bite is delicious.

Impressive Progress
Mississippi has achieved an impressive rate of progress in the last two decades, leading the South and the nation percentage-wise in 21 of 33 major economic indices. Vast natural resources and nearness to world markets through two deep water ports have been valuable advantages; but Mississippi's greatest asset is her people working together for a brighter tomorrow, seeking increased economic prosperity to combine the efforts of a capable work force with abundant raw materials. Mississippi has a strategic position geographically.

Fad diets, special food preparations and meal combinations for quick weight loss may sound glamorous, but they can also become very tiresome. How many people do you know who've gone on a crash diet and immediately returned to their old food habits and the unwanted pounds? Crash diets encourage off-and-on weight gains and losses. They can be harmful if they cause you to miss important nutrients in your diet. A well balanced Low-calorie diet of foods you are used to eating is the best way to keep your health, vigor and alertness as you lose weight and keep it off. This is the best weight reduction method for the person who has been eating too many rich cakes, pastries and other sweets and leaving off more nutritious foods. Don't forget - a well balance diet includes foods from four basic food groups. These are milk products, meat or meat alternates, fruits and vegetables and breads and cereals. You need something from each of these four groups every day.

OLIVES FOR PICNICS
Olives are often a part of picnic fixings - for those in the backyard and those further away from home - for those in August and other months. When you go to buy, you will find nine grades, or sizes, of ripe olives. The olive industry pioneered information labeling. You will always find an imprint or "picture" showing the approximate size on the label. The first size is called, Small, Select or Standard. Then we go to Medium, Large, Extra Large, Mammoth, Giant, Jumbo, Colossal and Super Colossal. You may buy blends of various grades. "Family" is a blend of Medium, Large and Extra Large. "King" is the blend of Giant, Jumbo and Colossal. Olive sizes are standardized throughout the industry. No matter what brand you buy, a certain size is always the same.

Women Scientists March of Dimes Grant Warns

Increasing numbers of young women must be encouraged to become medical research scientists. They are needed to make up the loss of men researchers who more and more are turning to electronics and other technical fields unrelated to the nation's health. This is the view of Dr. Virginia Tennyson, a medical scientist herself, who sees the day near when there will be an acute and dangerous shortage of science laboratory talent unless hundreds of girls - now in high school or entering college - can be won over to science as a career. Dr. Tennyson is an anatomist and electromicroscopist at Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City. Under a National Foundation-March of Dimes grant, she is working today to determine what causes excess fluid in the brain of infants (hydrocephalus), with which thousands of babies are born every year in the United States. This dread disease leads to gross enlargement of the head, wasting away of the brain, loss of mental powers - often death. Dr. Tennyson has suggested that there is an advantage in having women in some laboratory studies. "It is fair to say that in some fields of scientific inquiry, women are better equipped by nature than are men. For instance, few will argue that women aren't more intuitive. In this laboratory, they are more inclined to respect a hunch, which is just another word for disciplined imagination and deduction. We women 'hunch' because we are determined to get a realistic answer. "Then I also think," she said, "that women workers in science are inclined to be more patient than men researchers. Perhaps it's debatable, but I seem to find, too, that women are more likely to persevere, less prone to give up because of boredom and tedium." Dr. Tennyson mentioned that The National Foundation offers

Dr. Virginia Tennyson studies electron microscope. University College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City. She is studying causes of excess fluid in the brain known as hydrocephalus, under National Foundation-March of Dimes research grant.

Today post-doctoral fellowships to promising young individuals preparing for careers in science. In addition to offering aid to prospective research scientists, The National Foundation is taking steps to interest young persons in entering the allied health professions. Under this program, the health organization has awarded almost 1,800 scholarships each worth $2,000 if maintained for the full period of four years in the fields of medicine, nursing, physical and occupational therapy, and medical social work. The National Foundation offers 516 of these health scholarships each year to students in every state in the nation. Since Dr. Tennyson is dedicated to the serious task of determining the "why" of hydrocephalus, a person might conceive of her as a granteé faced with the "obvious" to all save laboratory test tubes, reagents and microscopes. Instead, this slim, auburn-haired and blue-eyed scientist looks like nothing so much as a professional model or dancer, and one endowed with humor. Her chief interests and training all relate to medical sciences, but when the occasion arises she can whip up the most epicurean "crêpes" she would ever hope to see. It is also a talent. Young women of old of a scientist, Tennyson advises, meet with hostility of them in ability scientific talent, they represent their male colleagues. It is this way: "If a young woman science career with chip on her shoulder attitude of defiance, she will arouse hostility. In some exceptional cases, people will accept their right to ability. If you do will be recognized. If it should down your colleagues. For all her chip on her shoulder field The National entered in 1959. Dr. says she tries to lead "dynamic equilibrium" we find in all states spend all of my time bits and mice and a microscope. Part a much equilibrium skating."
